THE FUNDAMENTALS OF TRUE RELIGION. SERMON BY REV. CHARLES M. GIFFIN LAST NIGHT.

Took as His Theme "The Three R's" of Religion, Which He Said Were Regret, Reformation and Restitution, All of Which, if Practiced or Experienced by the True Searcher After Truth, Will Lead Him to That Greatest R. of All, Repentance.

Rev. Charles M. Giffin, D. D., pastor of the Elm Park Methodist Episcopal church, preached a sermon last evening that may fittingly be termed both masterly and impressive, taking as his theme "The Three R's." He spoke in part as follows:

"In elementary education there are always certain well recognized fundamental essentials without a knowledge of which no one can expect to attain to the higher realms of education. The Yankee used to facetiously call them 'the three R's.' When we think of our moral relations there are also three R's we must master if we would be successful and it is of these that I would speak to you tonight.

"The first of these is Regret. When I speak of regret I do not want to be understood as confounding it with remorse, which is quite another thing. There are times when every man's life is self-reproachful of himself for the sins he has committed, but if this is only a dissatisfaction and if he doesn't determine to do better, it doesn't amount to much.

"I know that it is the trend of the times to gloss over iniquity. What were formerly a man's misdeeds are now calmly spoken of by him as his misfortunes. Some people suppose that all God wants of them is that they may say complacently that they surely are not up to the proper ideal of excellence.

ANOTHER CONDITION. "Then, there's another condition which isn't regret. That's the refraining from doing a thing because you're afraid of being seen doing it. There is a certain man in this city today who would not go into a certain court if he knew that the pastor of Elm Park church knew that he went there. But if he refrained from going there on that account would that make his act a Christian one? Undoubtedly, it would not.

OLD FORGE EXPECTS TO BE VERY DRY

ITS PROSPECTIVE THIRST THE FEATURE OF LICENSE LIST.

With Its Population of Less Than a Thousand It Wants Fifty-seven Drinking Places as Against Twenty Applied for by Carbondale with Its Population of Nearly Twenty Thousand—Four Scranton Wards Don't Need Drinking Places—Turnpike Condemned.

Court will sit this week primarily to pass upon 645 applications for liquor licenses, about fifty of which are for new houses. Last year there were 612 licenses granted.

The prospective thirst of Old Forge is again the feature of the application list. Only 281 votes were cast in the whole borough at the last state election, yet fifty-seven different sets of petitions set forth that they believe fifty-seven drinking places are necessary for the accommodation of the residents of that municipality and the traveling public. The city of Carbondale will be content with twenty licenses, while Dunmore asks for forty-nine. Scranton presents 233 applications, or a little more than four times the number wanted in Old Forge.

There are two applications from the Third ward; six from the Sixth, five from the Seventh; three from the Ninth; three from the Tenth; three from the Fifteenth; two from the Nineteenth, and two from the Twentieth. The residents of the Twelfth, Thirteenth, Seventeenth and Twenty-first wards do not ask for any hotel licenses. One hotel is located in the Seventeenth and there is a brewery in the Thirteenth, but in the Twelfth and Twenty-first wards intoxicants are not handled in any way, shape or manner. The wagons from the breweries and wholesale liquor houses send daily to these wards a lot of beer and other beverages, very likely.

Ten remonstrances have been filed. They are directed against the applications of Charles Raine, of the First ward; John Lahan, Matthew Jones and Peter Corant, of the Second ward; Thomas W. Lally, of Blakely; William Kruger, of Dickson city; George Yetter, of Madison; John Sommers, of Old Forge; Oscar S. Hendrick, of South Abington, and John J. Shea, of Taylor.

Favor a Free Road. The jury appointed to pass upon the petition to have Roaring Brook turnpike, within Dunmore borough, declared a free road, filed its report with Clerk of the Courts Daniels Saturday. It favors the petition and fixes the damages at $6,000.

The report will be presented to court this morning for confirmation.

For a West Side Property. A suit in ejectment was instituted Saturday by Attorney C. S. Woodruff, for C. H. Williamson, to secure possession of a property on Hyde Park avenue, which, it is alleged, M. H. Carpenter illegally holds. The property is a lot 41 by 165 feet, improved with a double and single house.

NEWARK TEAM VICTORIOUS. Scranton Whist Players Defeated Saturday by New Jersey Club.

A whist game was played Saturday night at Hotel Jermy between the Scranton and Newark whist teams, as a result of which the Scranton men lose the loving cup which they won a week ago at Baltimore and which is the trophy of whist prowess.

The New Jersey players won out by eighteen tricks, the game beginning at 8 o'clock in the afternoon and continuing until 1 o'clock yesterday morning.

This coming Saturday a team from Chicago will try to win the cup and Minneapolis and Washington players are the next in order to contest for the honors, the place of the game being designated by the team in possession of the cup.

The Scranton players were: Messrs. Dusenbury, LaBar, Hintermeister and Wallace, while the visitors' team consisted of Otis, Aymar, Cameron and Engles. J. F. Broadbent and C. H. Fuller, of this city, were recorders, and A. E. Taylor, of New York, one of the best whist players in the country, was referee.

MILK AND MEAT LAWS. Will Be Revised by Board of Health Committee.

A special committee of the board of health, consisting of W. J. O'Malley and J. P. Reardon, and headed by the latter, will meet this evening for the purpose of revising the meat and milk regulations of the board. City Solicitor Vosburg will be present at the meeting to lend his legal advice.

As regards the meat laws a penalty clause will be attached to the rules forbidding the exposure of meat outside butcher shops that violators of the rules may be legally prosecuted.

Food Inspector Widmayer will be on hand to urge that special rules be adopted providing that all milk dealers sell milk within the city limits be compelled to show a certificate showing that their herds have been inspected every so often by a regularly licensed veterinarian and that they were perfectly free from tuberculosis or other disease.
